

Underwrite
better

And transform your business.

Nobody said this was going to be easy.

Your health plan continually enters new regions and targets new markets with new product, and you're expected to minimize underwriter processing time while still assessing risk accurately, satisfying sales and service standards, and writing profitable business. And just to keep things interesting – regulations, rates, and business rules continually change.

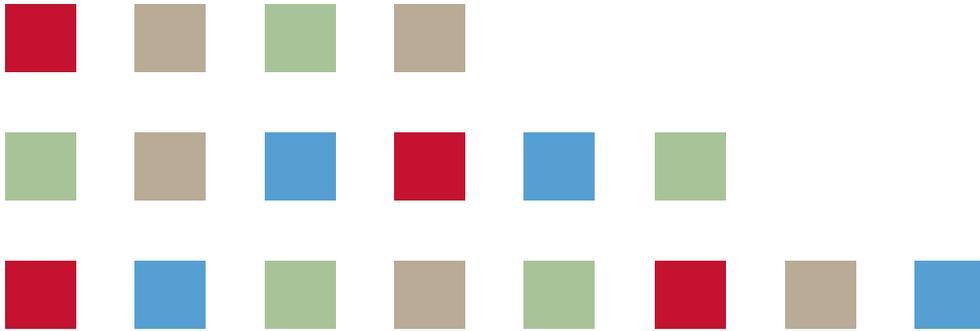

You may be keeping up, but what if you could significantly improve efficiency and risk assessment with software that can be implemented by next quarter?

Competition demands improvement.

If you're not keeping up with the technological transformation of underwriting, you risk losing out to competitors who are. The question is not whether your underwriting department will improve with technology, but by how much.

With the InsureConnect suite of products, you decide which path you take to meet your department's standard of excellence. InsureConnect Underwriting boosts the efficiency and accuracy of underwriting processing, and of quoting, enrollment, and renewals. Less time is spent on cases clearly inside or outside your eligibility rules, which leaves more time for the complicated ones that can truly swing the bottom line. Better workflow, better decisions, and streamlined processing – all part of how the underwriting capabilities of the InsureConnect suite contribute to increased profitability.
